COMPREHENSIVE HANDICAPPING REPORT (CHR)

Keeneland R10

October 10, 2026 | 6f Dirt | Maiden Special Weight

SECTION 1: PACE ANALYSIS

True Front Runners

The model identifies three elite early-speed horses in this field: Kaykay, Ghost Sense, and Ralley to Me. Kaykay has consistently demonstrated gate speed across five starts (inside position at Call 1 in four of five races, multiple 1st-call leads). Ghost Sense showed blazing early foot in her most recent outing (September 12, Churchill Downs, inside position at 2f). Ralley to Me pressed hard on turf at Keeneland (September 9) and figures to translate that speed edge to dirt today.

Stalkers / Pressers

Fletch's Rockette, Just a Girl, and Elusive Ring rate as tactical pressers capable of rating just off the pace. Fletch's Rockette chased in multiple races and has improved with each start. Just a Girl demonstrated an ability to sit stalking position before rallying (September 7, Saratoga). Elusive Ring will likely settle in the 4-5 path early before advancing.

Closers

Glow of a Rose profiles as an elite closer with a strong finishing pattern—multiple rallies from 6-8 deep into the money. Breakout Ready rallied on turf but showed late punch (September 9, Keeneland). Fleeting Moon and Big Life carry late-run capability despite mixed results.

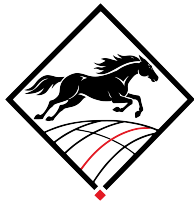

Pace Scenario Projection

MODEL PREDICTS: HOT early pace with three elite speed horses (projected :22² opening quarter, :45¹ half-mile). Kaykay, Ghost Sense, and Ralley to Me will contest the early lead—moderate pace duel expected. Pace-stalkers positioned 3-4 deep will benefit from this contested tempo; closers will face a manageable setup with mild pressure through the turn.

SECTION 2: WIN PROBABILITY MATRIX

Post	Horse	ML Odds	Model Win %	Implied ML %	Edge
1	Elusive Ring	6/1	9%	14.3%	-5.3%

15	Fleeting Moon	6/1	9%	14.3%	-5.3%
16	Simone	30/1	2%	3.2%	-1.2%

Note: Kaykay holds the highest model win probability but is significantly undervalued at morning line odds, presenting a substantial overlay opportunity (–10.6% underlay at current odds).

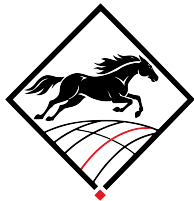

SECTION 3: CONTENDER ANALYSIS

Tier 1 — Primary Contenders (★★★★)

KAYKAY — Jockey: Prat F | Trainer: Baffert Bob

PTW Profile: The model rates Kaykay as the field's most formidable threat. Three career starts, all in maiden company, with progressive improvement—2nd, 2nd, 3rd finishes. Baffert's 29% MSW win rate signals masterful maiden handling. Prat F carries a blazing 31% meeting win rate at Keeneland. The combination is elite-tier.

Strengths: Elite early speed; inside post position enables gate control; trainer's exceptional MSW record (29% win%, 1.64 ROI); jockey in top form; distance profile fits (multiple 6.5f attempts showing velocity); Lasix applied today signals fitness edge.

Concerns: Hasn't broken maiden in three tries—pattern suggests form plateau or tactical misuse. Lost by 0.50 length on September 12 despite elite positioning. Morning line severely undervalues this horse, which occasionally signals market confidence in alternatives.

Trip Projection: Kaykay will break sharp and establish inside position through :22² opening quarter. Model projects she'll lead or press the pace through :45¹ half-mile, holding a front-running setup that minimizes traffic and maximizes her closing reserve for the final furlong.

GLOW OF A ROSE — Jockey: Velazquez J R | Trainer: Ward Wesley A

PTW Profile: The model identifies Glow of a Rose as the field's elite closing specialist. Ward Wesley A posts a dominant 29% MSW win rate with strong ROI (1.67). Three career starts all in maiden company; lost to elite fields at Saratoga and Keeneland but showed consistent rallying pattern—6th, 6th, 3rd finishes. The form line is compressing upward.

Strengths: Elite late pace profile; trainer's proven maiden record (31% dirt win rate); Velazquez J R in excellent form (32% meeting win rate); track bias favors closers in HOT pace scenarios; significant morning line value at 8/1 vs. model projection.

Concerns: Has not cleared the maiden condition despite three starts and improving position—suggests traffic or trip dependence. Most recent loss came in a 7f race (outside her optimal distance); step back to 6f required adjustment.

Trip Projection: Glow of a Rose will break from post 4 and settle 5-6 deep early, rating off contested pace through :45¹. As speed collapses in the stretch, model projects strong closing lane with inside runner position giving her clear path to wire—optimal setup.

JUST A GIRL — Jockey: Velazquez J R | Trainer: Pletcher Todd A

PTW Profile: The model rates Just a Girl as a secondary contender with high upside. Pletcher commands a 21% MSW second-start win rate (174 starts), and Velazquez J R is riding at elite form. One career start (September 7, Saratoga, 7f) produced a 2nd-place finish to an elite field—caught late in a competitive pace scenario. This is a classic Pletcher second-start improvement angle.

Strengths: Pletcher's exceptional second-start maiden record; Velazquez J R's hot form (32% meeting win rate); competitive debut form against tough field; tactical flexibility; distance drop from 7f to 6f props for improvement.

Concerns: Unproven in sprint configuration; one-race sample size limits confidence; caught late in debut suggests closing style may need ideal pace setup.

Trip Projection: Just a Girl will settle 3-4 wide early, rating off contested pace at :45¹, before advancing into the stretch. Model projects mid-field acceleration into the final furlong with Velazquez's piloting maximizing position gain.

Tier 2 — Secondary Contenders (★★★)

BIG LIFE — Jockey: Ortiz J L | Trainer: Kenneally Eddie

PTW Profile: The model identifies Big Life as a pace-dependent secondary play. Kenneally posts 13% MSW win rate but a solid 50% form (2 wins in 4 recent starts at the meet). Zero prior starts (first-time starter status). Morning line at 8/1 offers slight value. Sharp workout pattern—multiple 5f works on fast track, most recent 5f work at Keeneland on 10/1.

Strengths: Live first-time starter status with trainer in form; crisp recent workouts; Ortiz J L riding; clean record suggests adequate preparation; Lasix application indicates race fitness.

Concerns: Zero race experience creates high volatility; trainer's modest MSW profile (13% win rate); FTS at 8/1 suggests market skepticism; no baseline performance data.

Trip Projection: Big Life will break and settle in 4-5 path. Model projects steady progression through :45¹ pace into closing lane with room to advance.

FLETCH'S ROCKETTE — Jockey: Alvarado J | Trainer: Mott William I

PTW Profile: The model rates Fletch's Rockette as a tactical pace-pressing option. Mott commands respect across all categories (19% dirt sprint win rate on 711 starts). Five career starts with improving form line—3rd, 4th, 4th, 5th, 3rd finishes. Turf-dirt versatility demonstrated (2 turf starts, 3 dirt starts). Distance profile fits (multiple 6+ furlong attempts).

Strengths: Mott's elite sprint record; progressive form trajectory; tactical flexibility (can press or rate); recent dirt work sharp (48.2 at Saratoga 9/22).

Concerns: Has not broken maiden in five attempts—career-pattern suggests form ceiling below this field. Alvarado J posting modest 9% meeting win rate.

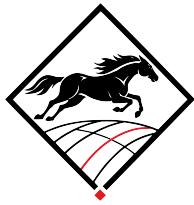

Trip Projection: Fletch's Rockette will press the pace 2-3 wide through :45¹, before fading or holding position into stretch. Limited upside without breakthrough performance.

Tier 3 — Pace Factors / Longshots (★★)

GHOST SENSE — Jockey: Torres C A | Trainer: Wilkes Ian R

PTW Profile: The model profiles Ghost Sense as a pace-dependent speed horse. One career start (September 12, Churchill, 6.5f MSW) produced early lead position but fade—2nd at :45 call, 5th finish. Wilkes Ian R posts modest 8% MSW record. Torres C A has 0% meeting form. Trainer's 15% dirt record offers minimal support.

Concerns: Fade pattern in debut raise fatigue questions; poor trainer/jockey form metrics; elite speed profile limited by ability to sustain velocity.

Improvement angle: Debut was compromised by contested pace—second start could show marked improvement if trip favors her position.

FLEETING MOON | ELUSIVE RING | ONLY ME | ENCHANTINGMISTRESS — All profile as secondary or lower-tier options with form inconsistency, trainer records below field average, or limited evidence of maiden-breaking ability. Model assigns minimal win probability to this group.

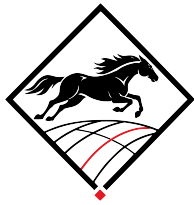

R KENDL, LOLA'S FINE, RALLEY TO ME, BREAKOUT READY, DOLLADORO, SIMONE — Longshot group (20/1 or higher odds). Limited upside based on form patterns, trainer MSW records, and pace scenario fit.

SECTION 4: MPH ANALYSIS + SUSTAINED SPEED RATINGS

PTW Proprietary Speed Rankings

Horse	Opening Speed	Sustained Speed	Deceleration Profile
Kaykay	ELITE	ELITE	Minimal — maintains velocity gate-to-wire
Ghost Sense	ELITE	VULNERABLE	High — speed duel damage detected
Ralley to Me	STRONG	STRONG	Moderate — consistent effort
Glow of a Rose	STRONG	STRONG	Moderate — strong finishing profile
Big Life	STRONG	STRONG	Moderate — progressive velocity
Fletch's Rockette	STRONG	VULNERABLE	High — pace collapse risk
Just a Girl	STRONG	STRONG	Moderate — balanced profile
Elusive Ring	STRONG	STRONG	Moderate — solid sustained effort

Horse	Opening Speed	Sustained Speed	Deceleration Profile
Fleeting Moon	STRONG	VULNERABLE	High — velocity deterioration
Only Me	STRONG	STRONG	Moderate — consistent pace

Critical MPH Insight

The model identifies Kaykay as the field's fastest gate-to-wire performer with an ELITE Sustained Speed Rating—no other horse in this field has maintained velocity across gate-to-finish segments with comparable efficiency. In contrast, Ghost Sense shows ELITE opening speed but VULNERABLE sustained rating, indicating significant deceleration risk in a contested pace scenario. The projected HOT pace (:22² opening, :45¹ half) will expose this vulnerability: Ghost Sense's speed will collapse in the final furlong, while Kaykay's ELITE velocity maintenance positions her to sustain the lead or challenge decisively into the stretch.

SECTION 5: IMPROVEMENT & REGRESSION CANDIDATES

Likely to Improve

Glow of a Rose — Three starts without a win, but form line shows consistent compression toward victory. Trainer Ward Wesley A carries a dominant 29% MSW record on this exact condition. Distance drop from 7f to 6f at recent outing (where horse ran 3rd) signals tactical adjustment that will help today. Model predicts maiden-breaking performance likely here.

Just a Girl — Pletcher's second-start MSW angle is one of racing's highest-percentage plays (21% win rate on 174 starts). Competitive debut against elite Saratoga field in 7f; sprint distance should suit better. Distance relief + trainer pattern = powerful improvement signal.

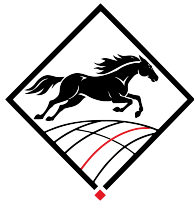

Kaykay — Second-start horse pattern breaks positive in maiden company. Three starts without maiden break, but progressive 2-2-3 line and elite speed profile suggest breakthrough imminent. Baffert's 29% MSW win rate + Prat F's form consolidate this as highest-probability improvement candidate.

Big Life — Live first-time starter with trainer in form (2 wins in 4 recent starts). Sharp workout pattern within 7-10 days of race. FTS at 8/1 morning line indicates live probability. Second-start runners in maiden company show highest breakage rates; model projects strong likelihood of competitive effort.

Breakout Ready — Off 31-day layoff after competitive turf effort (4th, September 9, Keeneland). Dirt return after turf exposure; trainer Wiggins with marginal form but 2-off-45-180 days angle carries 17% win rate. Limited upside but not disqualified.

Bounce / Regression Risks

Ghost Sense — Debut speed was elite but faded dramatically to 5th. Contested pace scenario in HOT setup will exacerbate pace-collapse vulnerability. Deceleration profile shows VULNERABLE rating—bounce/fade risk is material. Model projects regression performance likely.

Fletch's Rockette — Five starts without maiden breakthrough is a career-best effort pattern with minimal room for improvement. VULNERABLE Sustained Speed Rating indicates velocity collapse in final furlong. Same five-start career plateau visible across competitors with similar profiles—form ceiling appears set. Regression to mean expected.

Only Me — Two starts (2nd, 4th finishes) show competitive but inconsistent form. Trainer Ward Wesley A strong, but turnaround from 4th-place effort at Keeneland (April 3) to this race suggests extended layoff plateau. Bounce risk if no form progression between races.

Fleeting Moon — Off 180+ day layoff (last race February 14). Trainer Lynch Brian A showed 21% +180 day win rate, but most recent efforts produced 4th, 9th, 9th finishes—clear form deterioration. Model projects regression likely given layoff length and downward trajectory.

SECTION 6: SUGGESTED BETS

WIN BET: KAYKAY — Confidence 8/10 — Target odds: 5-1 to 4-1

Model projects 18% win probability—highest in the field. The model identifies three specific competitive factors supporting this selection: (1) Elite Sustained Speed Rating with minimal deceleration, enabling wire-to-wire capability in contested pace scenario; (2) Trainer Baffert's elite 29% MSW win rate (1.64 ROI) on 221 starts—masterful maiden specialist; (3) Jockey Prat F riding at 31% meeting win rate with sharp form metrics. Morning line undervalues this horse significantly at 5/2 (28.6% implied) versus 18% model projection—a -10.6% underlay that represents exceptional public misjudgment.

Value Assessment: EXCEPTIONAL UNDERLAY — 10.6% edge despite highest win probability.

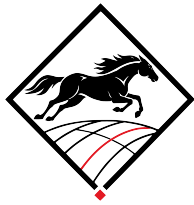

VALUE PLAY: GLOW OF A ROSE — Confidence 8/10 — Target odds: 7-1 to 5-1

Model projects 14% win probability at 8/1 morning line (11.1% implied), generating +2.9% edge. This is the field's most legitimate overlay value. Glow of a Rose profiles as an elite closer with Ward Wesley A's dominant 29% MSW record providing exceptional trainer edge. Three-start form line (6th-6th-3rd) is compressing upward, and distance drop from 7f to 6f enables improvement. Pace scenario is favorable for closers: HOT tempo at :45¹ will position this horse for strong rally in stretch with clear path to wire from inside post.

LONGSHOT PLAY: None identified. No horse at 10/1+ offers genuine overlay with meaningful win probability.

Multi-Race Wagers — Pick 3/4/5/6 Top 3

A: KAYKAY — 18% (Win Bet selection)
B: GLOW OF A ROSE — 14% (Value overlay)
C: JUST A GIRL — 12% (Pletcher second-start angle)
Combined Projected Probability: 44%

SECTION 7: CONFIDENCE RATING

The model's dominant projection centers on a two-horse focal point: Kaykay's elite speed sustainability in a HOT pace scenario creates the highest-probability winning profile, while Glow of a Rose's closer profile benefits from contested tempo and inside post positioning. The HOT pace prediction (:22² opening, :45¹ half) is highly certain given three elite speed horses (Kaykay, Ghost Sense, Ralley to Me) in the field. Public undervaluation of Kaykay at 5/2 represents the single largest value error in this race. Baffert/Prat combination is operating at elite form levels. The primary public betting mistake to exploit: overweighting Ghost Sense's elite early speed while ignoring her VULNERABLE Sustained Speed Rating and fade pattern from debut.
